THE GLORY OF GOD
IS INTELLIGENCE

December 18, 1989

Representative Reese Hunter
4577 Wellington Street
Salt Lake City, UT 84117

Dear Mr. Hunter:

This is in response to your letter of December 12 in which you asked for my opinion concerning whether under Article V of the United States Constitution, a constitutional convention called to consider a particular issue could be limited either by congressional directive or otherwise to that single issue.

The only safe statement that could be made on this subject is that no one knows, but the only relevant precedent would indicate that the convention could not be so limited. Anyone who purports to express a definitive view on this subject is either deluded or deluding. As a result, in determining the steps you should take as a responsible representative of the people of Utah, you and other members of the legislature should realize that the risks are very real that (1) just as happened in 1787, the convention might not in fact limit itself as instructed by Congress and (2) the convention's forays into areas forbidden them by Congress might eventually be upheld.

In short, if the question is whether a runaway convention is assured, the answer is no, but if the question is whether it is a real and serious possibility, the answer is yes. In our history we have had only one experience with a constitutional convention, and while the end result was good, the convention itself was definitely a runaway.

I hope this is helpful to you.

Sincerely,

Rex E. Lee
